This program has been downloaded 216 times. 3. Hotfix/ Update. The latest version of the program that we had at our disposal was actually release. This solution could be a new one, so you may have to give it a try.. DVDVideoSoft Free Studio V.6.6.1.119 152 The program license key found in C:\Program Files\DVDVideoSoft Free Studio\Installation\dvdvidsoft.exe;91329D:d15d2f4c6. You should not give out your license key. DVDVideoSoft Free Studio V.6.6.1.119 152 It also helps that the program in no way depends on any 3rd party files to work and, to the contrary, actually redirects to the official website of the product for you. You will have to copy the registry value into the proper key through a REGEDT32 command and then reboot. If you are using a program to rip DVD to.dvd format, I have a detailed guide for you. How to Rip DVD/Blu-ray to ISO using software - Windows. All about.dvd and.dvdr tools,.dvd to.flv software. Here is the link to that guide, I hope it will help you. First of all, DVDVideoSoft Free Studio is a powerful software, but it is bit tricky to set up if you are not experienced and not even advanced user. The first thing we need to do is to start our computer. Then, in the DVDVideoSoft Free Studio shortcut, we need to set the program file path. After that, we can press the Rip button to start the ripping process. The only thing we need to consider about is: 1. We have to verify the error level. The error level is set on the option settings page, it will affect the whole ripping process. I personally like to set the error level on 10, but I recommend you to give 10 minutes to set it and then verify it. After that, go to the software, right-click on it and select the options page. Then, scroll down and set a new error level. Then, the process will begin. 2. The default setting is Full Rip, you can set the rip type. The output quality is set on the options page, you can use this
