The player controls Robert, a boy who failed his college exam and earns a part-time job giving private lessons. He lives with his mother. The novel is set in the 1960s, during a period when the oil industry is driving up the price of gasoline, causing many New Yorkers to bike and walk. The player plays the role of Charlie, who lives in his father's house, listening to the sound of an approaching train on the radio. At the same time, Charlie is played by the boy Mickey, who moved in with him to live with his mother. He has health problems and spends a lot of time in hospitals, which makes his father doubt his future. The action of the novel from the Lazerson Brothers series takes place in New York in 1960. Nicknamed "The Lunar Fighter" or "The Moon Knight"[2], the medical student, nicknamed "The Lunar Spearman" (because of his fantastic stories about space flight), is part of The Initiative for Psychiatry and Epidemiology, fighting the spread of psychiatric diseases. He begins dating a student named Renee, spending a lot of time writing labs for her dissertation. Psycho begins to notice that Rene is starting to change. With the help of his special equipment, he penetrates Rene's memory and understands that her memory contains a lot of important data, including the first meeting of the girl and her illness, as well as the facts that the psycho can control her mind. The main character of the novel, an eleventh-grader Eva, is a senior in college. She breaks up with her boyfriend Johnny, who is moving to Miami, with whom she has been corresponding. On the day that the event described in the novel took place, Eva goes shopping to buy a present for Johnny. Eva remembers the girl she had to part with, she locks herself in her room, and then comes to her. The next day, she writes him a letter in which she apologizes for not being able to devote more time to him. She asks Johnny not to return to New York. But Johnny, on the advice of his friend Henry, invites Eva to join his group, the Institute for Psychohistory. Eva accepts the offer. Harry Cooper, founder of the "Institute of Psychology", personally meets Eve, after which he appears in her life. Harry wants Eve to spend all her time in the lab as he tries to find a cure for
