CESAW: consortium of laboratories With CESAW (Consortium of European laboratories for the assessment of water quality) we will be able to continuously monitor and test the water quality and the pathogens. To achieve this goal we need to receive the water samples from the customers. This can be done with the help of existing water companies with their own staff. We are already in contact with different water companies from Slovenia. So far we have gathered around 40 water samples to analyze. The samples are then sent to the laboratory. In the lab we analyze the samples for: * the presence of micro organisms (e.g. bacteria, viruses) * the presence of heavy metals * the presence of physicochemical parameters (e.g. ammonia, oxygen, hardness) The laboratory is located at the one of the European "Maribor Aqualia" laboratories. The lab analyses are very quick (it only takes one week to get the results) and the cost for this type of analysis is cheaper than conventional tests. Why traditional methods are not as reliable as they might seem? Because you can never really know how reliable the test results are. Traditional tests take time to perform and could cost some (up to €500) per sample. With CESAW we are offering a reliable, fast and cheap test that checks the water quality and the pathogens. If you want to know the costs please contact us by email. Najnovejši statusi Recejso ljudi za pomoč namreč 2/5 Testo jezikov en_
