“HyperMotion Technology will also ensure that FIFA 22 delivers a more authentic, fluid and reactive experience to players everywhere,” says FIFA producer Andrew Yip. “The unique blend of innovation, creativity and authenticity makes FIFA an experience only FIFA can deliver.” To further enhance the authenticity of FIFA gameplay, EA SPORTS has introduced “FIFA Specific Mode.” For the first time, FIFA specialists have applied the FIFA experience and strengths to create a dedicated mode for FIFA that lets gamers experience FIFA the way they play the game: in the most authentic way. FIFA Specific Mode is being built from the ground up from player movement, player behaviour, new animations, and physics, allowing players to select pre-defined plays, formations, and play styles. FIFA lovers can now take the expert-crafted FIFA mode offline and try it free of charge on PC. The feature allows players to enjoy the depth of gameplay and control we have developed for FIFA Ultimate Team. FIFA Specific Mode lets players experience football the way FIFA players enjoy the game. This new FIFA mode has five distinct game modes that cover all the major gameplay features, including head-to-head matches, online multiplayer, co-op, private matches and online FIFA tournaments. FIFA 22 features the full roster of real-life football players, with more than 300 individual player likenesses that are directly tied to real-life players in football history. Players will be augmented and enhanced with new hair and skin variations, improved AI and an improved Player Career Mode, showing the growth of players from youth to senior teams. EA SPORTS has expanded the pitch size to 8,000 square meters, which creates more realistic gameplay. The brand-new Game Day features at The Globe, a 360-degree arena at Atlanta’s iconic soccer destination, provide unparalleled fan-first experiences that include multiple songs, pre-game ceremonies, a ceremonial first kick, halftime show and more. Fans also will experience the most immersive arenas ever, with fully-integrated social features and new storytelling with a narrative-driven experience. The new mode also offers a new co-op mode for 2-5 players, where players can create their own Ultimate Team and complete challenges in co-op. “2018 is the most important year in the history of EA SPORTS FIFA,” says FIFA Producer Andrew Yip. “FIFA 19 made history by attracting over 60 million players globally, and as we approach the launch of

EA SPORTS FIFA, powered by EA SPORTS Frostbite EA SPORTS FIFA's award-winning game engine has received an upgrade, putting players closer to the real thing with less delay and a new momentum-based physics system, enhancements to AI-controlled tactical and technical abilities, new player traits and an all-new animation system. FIFA 22 also marks the return of speed-based dribbling – a hallmark of the franchise that now comes with additional depth, intensity and player-control. With a new focus on passing, shooting and heading, each player has new movement options and new behaviour. For the first time ever, the ball gains more realistic behavior, meaning players receive the ball through contact, while curved clearances mean players can now control their own flight. The dribble mechanic returns, enhancing ball control and allowing players to deceive defenders and get past them with a new two-step approach. The various surfaces on the ball have been identified in FIFA 20 and are now simulated more faithfully and the ball becomes more unpredictable with greater variation in its behavior. The ball now features an enhanced flight mechanic, which has been determined by conducting detailed tests in a full-scale pitch-like facility. The game's ball physics, ball and player collision systems have been refined to deliver a more authentic and reactive experience. The new collision rules include traditional FC-style momentum-based physics, with new penalty areas in which the ball can be taken to penalise the player. This works together with the new dice-based element of the new ball physics, providing consistency and unpredictability in how a player controls the ball. Key Features Powered by Frostbite EA SPORTS FIFA 22 marks the return of the game engine technology that powers EA SPORTS FIFA, a FIFA staple since 2004. Improved performance across the board has been achieved through a combination of technological innovations and system optimization. Frozen World Frozen World is a new gameplay mechanic that enables players to set up and control their own challenges when playing online in FIFA 22. During online gameplay, the game engine offers a number of in-game challenges that are either interactive, like making your opponent chase the ball, or not interactive, like seeing the ball drop and having to predict where the ball will be next. There are currently seven types of in-game challenges in FIFA 22, including: Defender, which needs to stop the ball, or score a goal; Goalkeeper, which
