We will look into those issues and see if we can address them. You said: There is a glitch that whenever I play it I can shoot the rod in the air and it will actually go around the sphere but then the physics does nothing, it's like nothing happens after you fired. It is very odd and frustrating. Our Response: Thanks for the feedback. We will look into this, and hopefully have something up here in the next update. Our Response: Thanks for the feedback, this is a bug we are aware of and will be addressed in the next update.
